MANY CASES IN FEDERAL COURT

Three Week Term Begins in Raleigh.

About a Hundred and Sixty Cases on the Docket—Judge Connor Announces His Purpose to Recognize State Laws and State Courts—The Million Dollar Damage Suit of Wells-Whitehead Tobacco Company Will Likely Be Taken Up At Special Term.

Raleigh, Nov. 22.—Judge H. G. Connor, in convening the Federal court here for a three weeks term this morning took occasion to lay down a rule for his court officers, especially commissioners and deputy marshals, to the effect that his court will not entertain cases against defendants who have already been dealt with by the state courts for the same offenses sought to be brought into the Federal court for prosecution. He dwelt at great length upon the relation of the State and the Federal courts and of his purpose to take cognizance of the State laws and of the State courts in every way possible.

The court has a docket of something like 160 cases on the criminal side of the docket that it is believed will require nearly all of the three weeks allotted for this term. So that it is probable that there will be a special term later for hearing civil causes. The court gave notice that Thanksgiving Day would be observed by a recess for the entire day. He gave notice, too, that there would be no displacement of cases from day to day for the accommodation of counsel, cases of sickness being the only pleas that would be entertained at all for deferring trials.

With reference to the civil side of the docket about the most important case pending is that of Wells-Whitehead Tobacco Co. vs. American Tobacco Co. seeking more than a million dollars damages for injury to the cigarette manufacturing business of the plaintiff at Wilson and Norfolk through the practice of trust methods of crushing out competitors in business. This case is set for trial at this term but it is not believed it will be reached. If not it will go over to the special term. This case has been in the court for quite a while and there have been a number of special decrees by the court involving it. One eliminated from the case the question of punitive damages, thereby taking from the demand for damages something like one million of the amount originally asked for.

Corporation Commissioner S. L. Rogers is just back from Winston-Salem, where he attended the meeting of the trustees of the Western North Carolina Methodist Episcopal Orphanage of which he is a member. He is delighted with the growth of the institution which already has nearly one hundred children with plans well afoot for greatly increased capacity and improved facilities for affording the comforts of life to the orphans. He is enthusiastic over the wonderful growth of Winston-Salem, regarding the Twin City as one of the very best little cities in the whole South.

Gov. Kitchin yesterday commuted the sentence of Andrew Hill, who was sentenced to serve 12 months on the roads at the January term of Wake county court, 1910, for the crime of larceny. Reasons for commutation:

"In this case prisoner, who is 15 years old, was convicted of stealing a small quantity of beef and sentenced to 12 months on the roads. He has served about 10 months. While working for the county of Wake, in performing the sentence of the court, one of his legs was broken about a month ago. The county commissioners, the county physician, the superintendent of roads, the trial judge, and the solicitor all recommend clemency. There is no protest. I therefore commute his sentence to a term expiring on the 21st of November, 1910."

Remains Carried Through.

The remains of Mrs. R. A. Armfield, who died in Statesville on Monday night, were carried through the city yesterday afternoon en route to Mt. Airy where the interment will be made. Accompanying the remains were Dr. and Mrs. G. F. Duncan, High Point; Mrs. J. G. Banner and Mr. W. E. Armfield, of Mt. Airy; Mr. A. A. Armfield, of Fayetteville; Mrs. W. C. Wistar, of Washington and Mrs. E. G. Gilmer, of Statesville.

SPUR TRACK ACROSS WASHINGTON STREET

Southern Extends Railway Track From Washington Street to Hughes Alley—This Addition Will Make Vacant Lots Ideal Places For Wholesale Stores.

The Southern Railway yesterday began the work of extending the spur track across East Washington street to Hughes alley, which intersects with Davie nearly opposite The Telegram office. This extension will open up a new and desirable wholesale district. The track runs along the rear end of a number of vacant lots, on which there will no doubt be erected large wholesale stores. Or small manufacturing enterprises could be operated with success.

Until the spur track was run to Washington street the east side of Davie contained only one or two buildings from Washington to the railroad. Now this block is the wholesale district of the city, there being almost an entire block of store houses. In addition to the wholesale stores there are two manufacturing establishments in this block.

When the new block is builded up there will be almost a solid front of stores on either side of South Davie and the property along the street will increase in value, especially the section between Sycamore and Washington. No street in the city has been improved more than South Davie during the past three years and the value of a considerable portion of the property has more than doubled.

WOMAN DEFIES U. S. OFFICERS

Holds Them Off With Guns And Dogs.

Went to Bed and Pretended Sickness When a Still Larger Detachment Was Sent Out—She Is Charged With Writing Obscene Letters to Impatient Creditors and Sending Them Through Mails—Can't Take Her At Present.

Raleigh, Nov. 22.—Mrs. Josephine O'Neal, of South Rocky Mount, is responsible for on end of perplexity on the part of certain deputy United States marshals in this the Eastern District of North Carolina in that they have thus far been foiled in every attempt to take her in custody and produce her in court to answer the charge of writing letters and sending them through the mails, denunciatory of impatient creditors that were so forcibly expressed as to violate the law as to sending obscene letters through the mails. A warrant was sent from Raleigh some time ago to the local deputy marshal with instructions to arrest Mrs. O'Neal. He and two policemen who accompanied him were confronted with two bull dogs and the intended prisoner with two guns at hand and the assurance that if they entered the premises they would be shot down and torn to pieces by the dogs. The officers retreated and reported the situation to Raleigh. A deputy from here went down and he and five assistants presented themselves at the O'Neal house. The dogs and the guns were again in evidence, but when the woman saw that the five men could certainly rush in from different directions and seize her in spite of her best efforts she ran to her room, took to her bed, assumed a semi-conscious condition, according to the statement of the officers, and refused to move. She weighs around 250 pounds and keeping herself perfectly limp the officers could not budge here from the bed even. The deputy marshal from Raleigh sent for a physician who concluded that the woman was really badly off both mentally and physically, due partly to the excitement through which she passed. He advised that she be left alone for a while at least. The officers came away and there the case rests at this time. The officers regret especially that when they left they did not take away with them at least the two guns that the woman used. The guns and the dogs are all there and the woman in possession of her complete liberty so that the whole struggle will have to be gone through with again if the woman is to be ultimately taken and produced in court.

ABLE PLEA FOR THE LARGER LIFE

Inspiring Address by Miss Eckert.

Field Secretary of World-Wide Philathea Union Heard by Large Audience Last Evening—Urged Hearers to Live Life of Service For Christ—Speaks With Conviction That Is Convincing—Informal Reception Followed Address.

There was a large audience of Philatheas and Baracas present at the Smith Memorial building last evening to hear an address delivered by Miss Daisy Eckert, field secretary of the World-Wide Philathea Union.

The meeting was presided over by Miss Vallie Sanders and a short address was made by Miss Flossie Byrd, in which the history of the Philathea movement was reviewed and its purposes set forth.

Miss Eckert is from Kentucky. She has had wide experience in Philathea work and was at one time president of a class of more than 150 members. She strikes one at once as being a young woman of unusual intellect and spiritual insight. Her eye is kindly, her manner simple and unaffected and, while she is filled with zeal for her work, she is withal a young woman who can with natural, innate, and unassumed power of heart and soul get next to those young people whom she desires to influence for good. Her voice is rich and deep and her manner easy and graceful. She speaks with perfect ease and with a conviction that wins hearts. It is to be regretted that she could not have had the congregate citizens of Greensboro in her audience, for no speaker who has visited Greensboro this season has delivered a more practical and forceful address than that of Miss Eckert last evening.

Many of her epigrams could be posted to advantage over the desks of Greensboro business men; for example: "The past is only a passage to the present, and the present an open door to the future." "Life is made up of little things, and he who is of the greatest use is he who fills the greatest number of little niches." "Men are seeking for power, and refuse to use the greatest force there is—prayer." "Success lies in the harmonizing of little things." "If you take away a man's idol, you must give him something in its place." "Education is good; and it is a fine thing to have a string of letters after one's name, but the person who gets so full of intellectuality that there is no room for Christ, has failed."

Miss Eckert pleaded for the larger life—the big soul and heart in which there may be found room for all men and races, saying that there's no time or place in the kingdom for personal feeling, for jealousy, envy and fear of contamination. She urged her hearers to become so thoroughly imbued with zeal for service as to work anywhere for God.

During the address everyone present manifested a deep interest in the words o fthe speaker, and it is certain that the Baraca and Philathea classes of the city have felt a new impulse for greater usefulness.

After the address an informal reception was held in honor of Miss Eckert in the parlors, which were tastefully decorated with Philathea colors, white and blue. Refreshments were served, a musical program was rendered, and everyone present had a most delightful hour of good-cheer, pleasant diversion and amusement.

COWBOYS TO JOIN REBELS

Escaped Mexican Officer Says Soldiers Will Desert Army.

Galveston, Texas, Nov. 22.—Mango Caslera, of the Mexican Army, who escaped from Mexico after seeing four of his fellow-officers imprisoned for expressions of sympathy for the revolutionists, or, as he expressed it, for favoring Mexican liberty, arrived here on the Disa from Frontera.

He has served 10 years as an officer and will return, but not as an officer in the government troops.

Caslera says a large percentage of the officers and men in the regular army will go to the ranks of the revolutionists the moment they are assured the anti-Diaz forces are strong enough to win.

The feeling is becoming strong in the army over the fact that the commanding officers are trimming down their regiments by throwing officers and men in prison, and every officer knows that this means death when imprisoned on such serious charges.

Puebla, he says, is held in subjection only by the orders issued to the soldiers to disperse by shooting every gathering of 10 or more persons. After the Puebla riot five army officers resigned and had to leave the country, but none of the soldiers dare resign, and 120 were imprisoned for failing to do their duty.

A report from Del Rio today says that once hostilities have opened two troops of rough riders, composed of Texas cowboys, will join the revolutionary forces, all arrangements having been completed.

KAISER WANTS IRON MEN

Urges Naval Cadets to Temperance and Strong Moral Character.

Flemsburg, Prussia, Nov. 21.—In opening the new naval academy at Muerwick today Emperor William read an order in council laying stress upon the qualifications necessary to naval officers, and later, speaking extemporaneously, made a plea for temperance on the part of the cadets.

The times, the emperor said, required iron-hearted men. Character was the first essential and character was founded upon strong moral and religious convictions.

In his temperance talk the Emperor cautioned the cadets against excessive drinking, which, he said, undermined the nerves, and the strenuous naval service of today required strong nerves. He counseled total abstinence and added that the nation which in the future used the smallest amount of alcohol would march at the head of the column on the field of art and war.

WRESTLING MATCH TONIGHT.

There will be a wrestling match at the Grand tonight between Mr. S. E. Hipps, middleweight champion of the world, and Mr. T. O. Parker. After the contest, the winner will be challenged by Mr. George Trymle, a world-known Canadian wrestler, who reached the city yesterday.

Mr. Trymle announces that he is prepared to meet the successful contestant for any amount or for the benefit of the sporting public. He says that he is an exponent of clean sport does not use tobacco or intoxicants, and has a trade which he follows when not actively in the sporting field. He has recently accepted the challenge of Mr. Walter Furgerson, an exceedingly strong man claiming the ability to outclass any wrestler who will be here tonight.

PLAN CAMPAIGN OF EDUCATION

December Will be Missionary Month.

Committees From Various Churches, Assisted by Pastors, Will Hold Missionary Meetings and There Will Be An Every Member Canvas During the Month—The Work To Be Launched At Union Meeting of Committees December 4.

December is to be made "Missionary Month," if the plans as proposed by the missionary committees of the various churches materialize. At any rate missionary meetings will be held in the various churches by the missionary committees, assisted by the pastors. The idea is to have an aggressive program of missionary education so that every church member in the city can have some idea of the magnitude of the work being done in foreign fields and the great need for more missionaries and especially for more funds for those now in the field. It is believed that when the Christian people of the city realize the great need in the lands where the word of God is unknown save to a few they will respond more readily to the call for help and especially after they have been shown what can be accomplished with a small outlay of funds.

This campaign of education will be launched on Sunday afternoon, December 4, at a union meeting of the missionary committees and pastors of the various churches of the city. Messrs. G. H. Miles, L. M. Clymer and J. F. Troxler have been named as a committee to arrange for this meeting. The decision to launch the educational campaign in December was reached at a meeting of the co-operative committee of the Laymen's Movement last night. It will be remembered that some time ago resolutions were adopted recommending this course, but the time was not decided upon.

This union meeting will be followed by missionary meetings conducted by the laymen, assisted by the pastors, in the various churches. Each pastor will be requested to preach one sermon on missionary work during the month. At these meetings the needs of the respective denominations will be set forth.

Each church will be urged to conduct an every member canvass during the month. The conference year in a majority of the churches in the city, excepting the Presbyterian, ends the latter part of November and by having this canvass at the beginning of the conference year it can be made more thorough and with greater success, possibly, than at any other time. The other churches will conduct their canvass at the close of their church year.

It was decided to hold the anniversary meeting, celebrating the great convention last year, on Thursday evening, Jan. 12, and Friday evening, Jan. 13, 1911. Messrs. J. Norman Wills, R. A. Merritt, C. H. Ireland and C. A. Hines and Rev. Melton Clark were appointed as a committee to arrange for these anniversary services. The program will be of an interesting and instructive nature and the committee will probably secure the services of some noted missionary worker for the occasion.

The meeting last night was well attended, both by ministers and laymen. Rev. Melton Clark, of the First Presbyterian church, interrupted the proceedings of the committee to comment on the good sense of the Methodist and Methodist Protestant conferences shown in returning Revs. T. J. Ogburn, E. K. McLarty, D. M. Litaker and J. W. Long to Greensboro. Rev. Mr. Ogburn replied that "taffy tastes good."

PREPARING FOR S. S. INSTITUTE

Local Committee Arranging Interesting Program for Meeting to be Held Here on Dec. 6-7—Sessions to be Held in Grace Church—Noted Sunday-School Workers to be Present.

The committee on arrangements for the Sunday-School Institute to be held here on December 6 and 7 are preparing a most interesting occasion. The institute will be held in Grace M. P. church and a splendid musical program is being arranged. Among the noted workers who will be present wil be Rev. Franklin McIlfresh and Mr. Hugh Cork, of the International Sunday School Association, and Mr. J. Van Carter, secretary of the State association.

The following letter is being sent out announcing the dates of institutes to be held all over the State:

During the early part of December North Carolina will be favored with the presence of two Sunday School workers of superior ability and international reputation. They are Rev. Franklin McElfresh, D. D., superintendent of teacher training, and Mr. Hugh Cork, assistant general secretary of the International Sunday School Association, both from headquarters of the organization in Chicago. They will visit seven cities, covering as broad extent of territory and reaching as many of our people as possible. Popular assemblies, institutes and conferences will be held, two sessions a day for two days at each point visited and in some instances three sessions. Dates and programs have been arranged so that both International workers will be present at every point on the itinerary at some of the sessions and one only at other sessions. By this plan they will be able to give two days each to seven cities in less than two weeks. At Durham, Wilmington and Charlotte Rev. R. M. Andrews, President of the North Carolina Sunday School Association, will be present and will take part in the work. Mr. J. Van Carter, general secretary of the State Association, will be present at every appointment and will assist in the exercises. Topics to be discussed at these meetings will be such as relate vitally to many phases of Sunday School work. The addresses and discussions will afford information and inspiration to workers in all departments and will answer difficult questions and problems with which every Sunday School officer and teacher has to deal.

Following are the appointments announced with dates: Greensboro, December 6-7; Winston-Salem, December 8-9; Durham, December 10-11; Goldsboro, December 11-12; Wilmington, December 12-13, Charlotte, December 14-15; Asheville, December 16. Programs for all the appointments have been prepared and these will be published in ample time to inform the public. In view of the great prominence of the visitors from the International Association and of their ability to help all classes of Sunday School workers, it will be worth while to go a long way to hear them; but as their appointments cover every section of the sate, one can attend the meetings at one place at least, without much inconvenience or expense. This is a rare opportunity.

PICKING HUSBANDS.

A Woman's Cynical View of the German Marriage Market.

The men in Germany do not marry. They are married. They are more or less passive articles of sale, which stand in rows in the matrimonial shop window with their price labeled in large letters in their buttonhole, waiting patiently for a purchaser. They are perfectly willing, even eager, victims. They want to be bought, but their position does not allow them to grasp the initiative, and they are thankful when at last some one comes along and declares herself capable and willing to pay the price.

The girl and her mother, with their purse in hand, pass the articles in review and choose out the one which best suits their means and fancy.

"I shall marry an officer," one girl told me some time ago with the easy confidence of a person about to order a new dress, and, lo and behold, before the year was out she was walking proudly on the arm of a dragoon lieutenant! I even knew of three women who swore to each other that they would marry only geniuses, and here also they had their will. One married a great painter, one a poet and another a famous diplomatist. That they were all three peculiarly unhappy is not a witness against the system, but a proof that geniuses may occasionally be very uncomfortable partners. In this case the purchasers were rich and popular and could therefore make their choice. Others of lesser means would have had to content themselves with an officer, cavalry or infantry, according to the "dot," or a lawyer, or a doctor, or a merchant, and so on down the scale.—Miss Wylie's "My German Year."

Saves an Iowa Man's Life.

The very grave seemed to yawn before Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Iowa, when, after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave him up. Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For, after eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless medicine completely cured him. Its positively guaranteed for Stomach, Liver or Kidney troubles and never disappoints. Only 50 c. at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

MOTHERS should be careful about colds and coughs that affect their children. It is not only dangerous but absolutely cruel to experiment on little ones with unsafe and untried remedies. The baby as well as the older brother and sister should be given a safe and reliable remedy. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is such. A record of cures prove it. There is no danger to the child from its use. Simply give it as directed and it will afford, first, quick relief; second, speedy riddance of the cold and cough: Children like it because so pleasant to the taste, and mothers praise it because so prompt and effective. Homes that have this remedy handy, suffer no terrors.

Health and Happiness shared by Child and Mother.

Chicago, Ill.—Mrs. J. H. Brenstein, 188 N. Marshfield Ave., writes: "I use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup mainly for the baby's cough and cold. He had several colds this winter and the syrup cured him each time. I have also used it for myself for a sore throat, cough, and cold in the head, and found relief. I came to know Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup when I was small, and mother used it for our colds and coughs; so you see I must be satisfied with it.

MOTHERS, if you or one of the children have a cold or cough, hoarseness, bronchitis, croup, whooping-cough, grippe, etc., first test that trustworthy remedy, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, before you spend any of your money.

His Promotion

By CARROL H. PRICE

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

Lucrative positions come from various sources, so many sources that it is difficult to mention or classify them. And yet how hard it is for a boy, unaided and often even with every advantage, to grow into one of them.

Frank Bushnell was obliged to go to work when he was but twelve years old. His education therefore was not of the best, and, having no one to help him on but himself, he progressed slowly, or, rather, he didn't progress at all. He sold papers on a railroad, then became a brakeman and when he was nearly thirty years old had got no farther up the ladder than baggage agent at a small way station at a salary of $30 a month.

Frank while hunting up a lost trunk went one day into the general offices of the company. There he saw the sleek, well groomed officials with polished fingernails and clean shaved faces. One who sat at a mahogany desk and tapped a bell occasionally for a boy to do his work may have been getting from $3,000 to $50,000 a year, while Frank for tiring himself out handling heavy trunks got less than $400. It made him desperate. He went back to his station and wrote a letter applying for a better position.

The official who received it was about to throw it into the wastebasket when he remembered a station in the center of a desolate section of the road where the inhabitants who used the railroad habitually intimidated the ticket agent, securing tickets without paying any money for them. One agent after another had been discharged for not collecting for tickets sold. The official indorsed on Frank Bushnell's letter "Appoint him agent at Hawkeye."

When Frank learned that he was transferred to Hawkeye at a salary of $500 a year he was encouraged till he learned the facts. Then he was correspondingly depressed. But life looked so gloomy to him that he didn't care much whether he got killed trying to collect fares at Hawkeye or not. He was passing into middle age, had no home and, worst of all, wanted to make one with a girl he knew. But that was out of the question.

The first morning Frank appeared at his window a wild looking man applied for a ticket. Frank handed it out, but kept his hand on it, demanding the money for it. The man was putting his hand to his hip for his revolver when Frank laid his own hand on one beside the window invisible from the outside and fired at random through the opening. Then he went outside to discover the results and found the man, shot through the breast, giving his last kick. Going back to his telegraph clicker, he sent the following message to the man who appointed him:

Killed man for refusing to pay fare. Send undertaker. Shall I keep on?

When the gentleman received the dispatch he was puzzled just what to do in the matter. This taking the law in the hands of the company through one of its agents was not in keeping with the policy as laid down by its chief attorney. The recipient of the telegram took it into the president, who read it and was visibly impressed.

"Send an undertaker," he said, "and report the matter to Mr. Pugh." Mr. Pugh was the road's chief attorney.

"But the reply to the station agent as to his future course? You see, he asks if he shall keep on killing those who refuse to pay."

"Appoint another man in his place and as soon as the legal difficulties are out of the way order him to report to me here."

There were no legal difficulties. Every one knew all about Hawkeye Station and felt assured that if the people living about it couldn't take care of themselves the law would fail also. In a few days Bushnell appeared before the president of the road.

"It seems to me," said the president, "that you have indicated the field for which you are fitted. I am director in a bank. We have trouble to find a man brave enough and at the same time honest enough to guard our funds and securities. I am told that you are scrupulously honest. I can secure for you the position of chief watchman at the bank. You will be held accountable for its safety, and as your duties will be very important your salary will be commensurate. You will receive $3,000 a year."

Frank was so astonished that he neglected to reply. Finally, recalling himself, he said:

"If this promotion is for killing one man, why not let me stay there and kill a few more of 'em. I could get as big a salary as any one here in time."

"It isn't for killing a man that you are taken up for a more responsible position, but for furnishing evidence that you have plenty of nerve."

Frank Bushnell entered on his new duties. At first it seemed to him that, having been put there for the purpose of killing those who sought to rob the bank, he should shoot some one at least once a week in order to retain so fine a salary. But as time went on he learned that his value was negative—not to display his nerve, but to have it always in readiness. Not till he had been with the bank for ten years did he get another raise, and then it was for being in the line of promotion rather than on account of his readiness to shoot.

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Mannell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '09, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. THE CHURCH AND COMMON HONESTY.

Rev. Charles E. Maddry, of Statesville, has been giving some excellent advice from his pulpit regarding the payment of debts. He says that church members who won't pay their honest debts "live on the other people of the town" and "deserve the scorn and contempt of all decent Christian people." "The time has come," continued Mr. Maddry, "when the church must hold aloft the banner of common honesty."

If anybody is going to be honest, surely a Christian can better be expected to accomplish the task than anybody else.

We have seen people so wrapped up in benevolent work that they had no time to meet their personal obligations.

Again people indulge themselves in so many things that have to be paid for that they neglect the small bills in cases where their creditors will not and cannot because of the smallness of the claim resort to litigation to compel payment.

For one reason and another every one who does any credit business finds collections bad and it is too often the case that socalled Christian people are responsible for collections being bad.

Mr. Maddry is right in urging Christian people to pay their honest debts. And we have no doubt that his sentiments are endorsed by all other ministers.

Surely "the church must hold aloft the banner of common honesty."

"A PLAIN BOOK FOR PLAIN PEOPLE."

"A Plain Book for Plain People" is the title of a very useful book written and published by J. V. Moore, of Royal Oak, Md. It sets forth the rules and conditions by which one can live the sanatorium life at home. Mr. Moore cured himself of tuberculosis without a change of climate and without going into an institution of any sort.

Mr. Moore urges a proper care for others as well as self in his advice to consumptives and this is advice which, of course, those who have tuberculosis should be very careful to take. Some people are so selfish and self-centered in their make-up that, so long as they live and fare well, they don't care much what happens to other folks. And some are careless and as a result of their carelessness fail to protect others from running the risk of contracting the disease. So the author of "A Plain Book for Plain People" insists that consumptives shall make a proper disposition of their sputum and take all other precautions as advised by a competent physician against being the cause of a further spread of the disease.

And now for the cure. "The three things that are the cure for tuberculosis," Mr. Moore says, "are fresh air, good food and absolute rest." To quote further from him by way of giving the details of his cure:

Pure, fresh outdoor air is the only medicine that can reach the deep seated minute cells that are affected by this disease. The patient's great play, therefore, is to live absolutely out of doors all the time, night and day. He should be sheltered from wind, rain and sun, and clad warmly. Absorb as much oxygen as possible, hot or cold, winter or summer, wet or dry, and don't be afraid of fresh night air, which is far better than stale air indoors.

The second feature of the cure is good food, not in clogging excess, but such as will make blood so fast that the body is fortified and the tissue of the lungs is built up more rapidly than the tubercle bacilli tear it down or consume it. This accomplishes what drugs cannot do. East what you like that agrees with you, and all you want of it—milk, eggs, beef and chops, but not veal or pork. Drink milk at meals, and plenty of water between meals, and take two raw eggs after each meal. Pure cod liver oil really comes under the head of food, if you can take it without upsetting the digestion. If not, olive oil or cream is a good substitute. Alcoholic stimulants are no benefit and may prove a great detriment.

The third feature is rest, combined with restful exercise, but with extreme caution against overexertion. Give the lungs a chance to heal without putting any undue strain upon them, the heart or the muscles. A large reclining chair in the open is the consumptive's best medicine, no matter how hard it is to take.

With this treatment conscientiously carried out, you have done all that the most approved science of the twentieth century could do for you. And it must be carried out, not independently of your physician, but with his hearty co-operation, and with your perfect confidence in him.

When to Eat Fruit.

To obtain the most benefit from the succulent fruits they should be eaten at the end of the chief meal. Bananas are an exception and may be eaten with any meal. They are very acceptable cut in thin slices and eaten with bread and butter. Stewed fruits often have their virtues wasted through being eaten at the wrong time. Six or eight stewed prunes half an hour before breakfast are beneficial; so are stewed figs or stewed apples eaten before breakfast. Peeled oranges cut into thin slices so that the juice is set free, with sugar strewn over the slices, are not unlike pineapple and form a highly efficacious aid to digestion. Grapes should never be eaten except after the chief meal of the day. Taken when the stomach is comparatively empty, they are a specially harmful fruit.—Family Doctor.

Ruler of Russia's Title.

The general allusion to the ruler of Russia as the czar is, strictly speaking, incorrect. His official title is "emperor and autocrat." Czar is the old Russian word for lord or prince and was abandoned by Peter the Great on his triumphal return from Poltava, his crowning victory over Charles XII. of Sweden. Since then the Russian monarch has been officially entitled emperor, and at the congress of Vienna in 1815 his right to the imperial term was admitted by the powers, with the proviso that, though he was emperor, he had no precedence over the kings of western Europe.—St. James' Gazette.

The Modern Idea.

Roman Guide (impressively) — The ruins of the Coliseum! Seattle Man (astonished)—Well, what do you think of that! Why, I saw photographs of that heap twenty years ago. Roman Guide (loftily)—Quite likely, sir. Seattle Man—But why in thunder aren't those ruins cleared away and a modern Coliseum erected?—New Orleans Picayune.

Unless.

Townsend—Can a man live on $1 a day? Beers—Certainly, unless he's so prodigal as to lay something aside for a rainy day, keep up his insurance, eat when he's hungry, buy clothes and pay his bills.—Chicago News.

Flight.

"Would you take $10,000 to fly from Albany to New York?"

"Why not? Our cashier took only $1,000 to fly to Europe."

Blobbs—"A fellow must have a certain amount of sand to propose to a girl." Slobbs—"Yes, and he must have the rocks to marry her."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh,, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

LODGE'S STAR MAY FADE

Bay State Stand-Pat "Scholar" In Politics Seems Due For Eclipse.

Boston, Nov. 22.—Indications today point to the retirement of Henry Cabot Lodge from the United States Senate, and if the predictions of many well-informed politicians come true, many conservative Republicans will regard his downfall as one of the greatest tragedies the American political world has seen enacted.

Honored for years and believing, despite the protestations of friends and advisers, that nothing could happen to make necessary a change of his standpat charted course, Senator Lodge has figured in the affairs of the country with marked distinction. He attracted the attention of certain schools of thought throughout the world, and gained the title of being the true exponent of the "scholar in politics." His path was a clear one and honors were heaped upon him politically and otherwise. The Massachusetts Legislature did his bidding with alacrity, and as each term expired he was reelected, always without a contest, although it was not long before he was called the "polished boss."

But a few years ago the senior Senator from Massachusetts entered a chapter in his life's book that has since caused him many anxious moments, and at present he is fairly writhing with anguish.

It was a Republican State convention and the suave Senator believed that he had the machinery as well oiled as usual. He reckoned without his host, however, and he and other ultra-conservative members of the convention received a shock when Eugene Noble Foss, at that time a leading Republican and one of the leading business men of the State, asked the convention the ever momentous question of "What shall we do to be saved?"

Reciprocity with Canada was advocated by heady business men and closer relations to the people of the State and nation were desired. Sentiments were expressed which caused Senator Lodge to reply to Mr. Foss and the speech he delivered scintillated with sarcasm. Mr. Foss, present Democratic governor-elect, was advised by the Senator to enter the Democratic party, as the things he advocated never could or would be accepted by the Republican party.

After years of unending and apparently unsuccessful work, Mr. Foss decided that if membership in the Republican party could exist only through the say-so of one person, it was time for him to change.

Since that day he has been the Nemesis of the learned Senator, and straightway the bright political star of Lodge began to fall, growing dimmer all the while. It is not near the hard earth, and when the State Legislature convenes here, shortly, many well-informed members of both parties expect to hear of its disappearance.

222 acres land, less than 7 miles from city. R. R. runs through it. Wood enough on it to pay for property. There is a mortgage for $2500 on it not due for 3 years; owner wants to sell his equity for $1500 in cash, or $1500 worth real estate. This a rare opportunity for a hustler to get a great bargain.

WOMEN THE PANACEA, HE SAYS

Baltimore Sun.

Declaring that women have shown by their intelligence, their knowledge of civic affairs and their ability to right the present evils with which he says the present government, municipal and national, is overburdened, Dr. Howard A. Kelly, president of the Men's Suffrage League, addressed a gathering of suffragists last night at the residence of Dr. Calvin N. Gabriel, 2413 St. Paul street, under the auspices of the Just Government League.

Mrs. Donald R. Hooker, president of the league, presided at the meeting, and made a brief address later in the evening.

"Some where, away back in the dark ages," said Dr. Kelly, "there was a tacit understanding between men and women that men should do the outside work and women the indoor work. That time is past. You find women now conducting business projects and handling real estate. That is, in this country.

"Once women even had control of the water supply of the family, but that has been taken out of their hands now. And as conditions have improved, women have improved. There are now, doubtless, more college women in the country than there are college men.

"Then, there has grown up in our nation a tremendous amount of political corruption, called 'graft,' and men have not grown up with an ability to cope with it. We need the women's help. Men might be able to tell how much 'graft' can be got out of these institutions, but only a shamattering of the way in which they should be run."

Dr. Kelly then spoke of the working women of America and said that their conditions could be bettered at once if women were given the ballot.

Miss Julia R. Rogers, vice president of the league, followed Dr. Kelly, giving man yarguments in favor of woman suffrage, stating that the exercise of the franchise had an inspiring effect upon the voter.

"I don't believe that there is a man who voted for Woodrow Wilson for Governor of New Jersey," she said, "who will ever forget it. I hope that some day Maryland will have a candidate whom it will be a pleasure to vote for, and I, for one, should like to cast a ballot for that candidate."

WIFE WITH THREE HUSBANDS

Girl Started Marriages At 15, and Lands in Court for Bigamy.

Baltimore, Nov. 22.—A young woman who began getting married when 15 years old and stopped a year ago, with three husbands to her credit, was before Judge Dobler for bigamy.

The husband of her first romance is William Maddox, with whom she eloped. They lived together five years, during which the wife left her husband three times. Maddox sought a divorce, and his wife married Alfred Hopkins. In three years they separated, and she became the bride of William Cheveral. All three husbands faced her in court. Judge Dobler found that at the time she married Cheveral a divorce had been granted Maddovk, and that the bigamous marriage was the one with Hopkins. The girl was so sincerely innocent of her explanation of the tangle that the judge paroled her in the care of Cheveral, whom he declared to be her real husband.

MRS. F. A. DORSETT DEAD.

Passed Away Last Evening At Nine Thirty O'clock—Remains To Be Taken To Putnam.

Mrs. F. A. Dorsett died last night at 9:30 o'clock at St. Leo's Hospital, where she was carried yesterday afternoon. Several days ago Mrs. Dorsett stepped on a nail, injuring her foot. The injury caused blood poisoning and yesterday lockjaw resulted. She was carried to the hospital as a last resort, but nothing could be done to relieve her suffering. Mrs. Dorsett was about 40 years of age and is survived by her husband and four children.

The remains were taken to Poole's undertaking parlors and prepared for burial. The remains will be taken to Putnam, Moore county, this afternoon for interment in the family burying ground.

RELENTS AT SIGHT OF HER EMPTY ROOM

Rich Parents Across the Sea Forgive Elopers Who Fled from Paris to Denver.

Denver, Nov. 21.—It will be a happy Thanksgiving for Helga Ronne Hendricks and her husband Francis, a pair of elopers, for a message of forgiveness has come from across the sea and a honeymoon tempered by hardship will be succeeded by life of ease in the girl's home in Brussels. The message came from C. A. Ronne, the father, who is rich enough to keep up a Brussels residence at No. 168 Avenue de Burgmann and another in the Avenue de Bois, Paris. It read as follows:

"The door of our home is open. We want you to come back. Mother is waiting and father's arms are open. The fox terrier we bought for you is waiting o nthe threshold. Mother says your room has not been changed. It is just the same as when you left it."

"I would never have gone back without you," Helga said to Francis as she passed the cable message to him yesterday after reading it. "We will go together now. You can practice your art and make a great name abroad and my people will be as proud of you as I am."

Hendricks is a pianist of twenty-eight. He was engaged early in the year to play at the Paris home of the Ronnes. He and Helga, then not eighteen, fell in love. Her parents strongly opposed a match and the pair eloped on June 29. They were married in London a few days later.

On their return to Pariss Mr. Ronne was unforgiving. Hendricks cabled to his mother, who lives here, and with money that she sent him he brought on his bride in August. He tried to earn a living by teaching music, but it was uphill work. Helga menawhile kept writing to her mother. The cable yesterday came from Paris, where Mr. Ronne had gone to close the house there for the season. The sight of Helga's room there, just as she had left it, made him relent. When he had prepared the cable he telegraphed his intentions to Mrs. Ronne in Brussels, who returned an immediate answer of approval. Then the cable was sent.

NO BROKEN AXLE NOW

So Says James J. Hill, of Present Business Conditions.

New York, Nov. 22.—James J. Hill, chairman of the Great Northern Railway, is in New York. As usual he brought a new epigram to express his opinion of the business outlook.

"The country is cautious," he says. "It is not running on high speed, and that is a good thing, for we won't have a broken axle.

"I am not so familiar with conditions east of the Mississippi, but in the Middle West business is very good. In the real Northwest it is only fair. The short crop has been felt there, but general business in that section is all right."

PASS UP COLD STORAGE TURKS

Do This Thanksgiving and Dr. Wiley Says Microbes Won't Bite.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 22.—"Eat thy fill on Thanksgiving day and forget Wiley and the microbe, but do not eat cold storage turkey." This is the message to the American people from Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the government's food expert, who has been waging vigorous war against germs of all kinds.

It will be a day of truce for Dr. Wiley, too, as he will not slay a single microbe. "I believe," said Dr. Wiley today, "that the eating public is entitled to one day in the year upon which the inner man shall be satisfied without thought of germs."

A Tree Climbing Dog.

A government official in Bavaria connected with the forestry department has a wonderful dog, which is as clever at climbing trees as a cat. If his master fastens a handkerchief up in the treetops the animal will clamber up after it in the nimblest way and never falls to bring it down. He was taught by his mother, who was famous as a tree climber. The clever animal has won several medals by his extraordinary talent and takes particular delight in climbing silver birches, not the easiest tree in the world to scale, for the trunk is particularly smooth and slippery.—Wide World Magazine.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Report—Case of Mr. B. Grimes, Clear Lake, Wis.—a well developed case, albumen nearly twenty-five per cent.—loss in weight—incapacitated, could hardly get around. Treatment changed and put on Renal Comp. Feb. 12, 1909—between six and seven weeks before improvement was noted. Case began to respond about the seventh week—improvement thereafter steady. On Aug. 15, 1909, Dr. Goodwin reported the last trace of alubumen had disappeared. September 15, '09, still no albumen and patient feeling so well that the above report was sent in voluntarily.

The agent employed in the above case was Fulton's Renal Compound. Where it is administered before the heart has broken down and there is still recuperative power, Chronic Bright's Disease, even in its most stubborn and supposed incurable forms, commonly yields, and physicians are more and more discarding futile Digitalis, Nitro Glycerine, Basham's Mixture, etc., under which the deaths have doubled, and are saving lives with this treatment.

The new emollient treatment, Fulton's Renal Compound, can be had in Greensboro from Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

We desire every patient to write us who is not noting the usual improvement by the third week. Literature mailed free. Jno. J. Fulton Co., 645 Battery St., San Francisco, Cal. We invite correspondence with physicians who have obstinate cases.

HOW TO CURE RHEUMATISM

It Is An Internal Disease And Requires An Internal Remedy.

The cause of rheumatism and kindred diseases is an excess of uric acid in the blood. To cure this terrible disease this acid must be expelled and the system so regulated that no more acid will be formed in excessive quantities. Rheumatism is an internal disease and requires an internal remedy. RUBBING with Oils and Liniments WILL NOT CURE, affords only temporary relief at best, causes you to delay the proper treatment, and allows the malady to get a firmer hold on you. Liniments may ease the pain, but they will no more cure Rheumatism than paint will change the fiber of rotten wood.

Science has at last discovered a perfect and complete cure, which is called Rheumacide. Tested in hundreds of cases, it has effected the most marvelous cures; we believe it will cure you. Rheumacide gets at the joints from the inside, sweeps the poisons out of the system, tones up the stomach, regulates the liver and kidneys and makes you well all over. Rheumacide strikes the root of the disease and removes its cause. This splendid remedy is sold by druggists and dealers generally at 50c. and $1 a bottle. In Tablet form at 25c. and 50c. a package. Write to Bobbitt Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md. Booklet free. Tablets sent by mail.

For sale by Howard Gardner, Druggist.

Many residents of this vicinity endorse them.

Mrs. M. W. Fuller, Mill St., Graham, N. C., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills with highly satisfactory results and am pleased to recommend them to other kidney sufferers. I had severe pains through the small of my back, accompanied by headaches. I heard Doan's Kidney Pills so highly spoken of on many occasions that at last I procured a box and began their use. They drove away my trouble in a short time and it gives me pleasure to state that I have never had an attack since."

KAISER'S ONLY DAUGHTER HAS MIND OF HER OWN.

Princess Victoria Has Views of Her Own Regarding Woman's Proper Mission.

New York World.

Berlin, Nov. 20.—According to Berlin society gossip Princess Victoria has signalized her coming of age by having a serious tiff with the Kaiser, her father, over her enthusiastic support of emancipation of women. The Princess does not share her imperial father's enthusiasm for kitchen and domestic interests, and she argued at length with him about his famous speech against women's suffrage recently. The Kaiser, who is very anxious to keep the Princess in a state of girlhood as long as possible, was astonished by his daughter's obvious grasp of the latest emancipation arguments, and horrorstruck by her obvious intention to use her influence to help girls to independence.

The Princess is said to have argued that the position of women in Germany is ridiculously mediaeval. The German idea of woman's mission is to catch an officer for a husband, using her dowry or pretty face as bait. The Princess said that, women being more and more compelled to enter the arena in the struggle for a livelihood, is was imperative that the Kaiser stop talking about woman's proper place being the nursery or the kitchen.

By way of giving public expression to her feelings, the Princess paid a long surprise visit to the Yette Society's Institute for teaching young women how to earn a livelihood and independence. She spent a long time closely inspecting not only the pupils but the methods of teaching employed, and made the shrewdest inquiries as to the results attained. She was also anxious to know whether girls selected professions or a business with a view to their money-making chances, or selected for preference employment in which there was the best chances of meeting prospective husbands.

The authorities of the institutes greatly annoyed the Princess by sending hurriedly for quantities of roses to deck the reception room, where they offered her tea, and also by rushing the girls out to put on clean aprons. "I want to see the girls on their way to get employment," said the Princess, "not girls tricked out with flowers and Sunday school clothes. Please remember that next time."

HE HIDES HIS NAME WHEN HE TELLS IT.

For Solution of That Puzzle Read Story of the Peddler and the Judge.

New York World.

"What's your name?" said Magistrate O'Connor to a young peddler who was in the Essex Market Court yesterday morning charged with peddling without a license.

The peddler hesitated, then said:

"I. Wontell."

"You won't tell, eh?" exclaimed the magistrate. "Well, we'll see about that. What is your name?"

"I. Wontell," repeated the youth.

"Do you realize that you are insulting this court?" thundered the magistrate. "I have asked you twice for your name. Both times you have refused to give it. As a lesson to you I shall hold you"——

But the court interpreter interrupted with a request that he be permitted to talk with the prisoner, believing he could make the peddler realize the enormity of his offense. They talked for fifteen minutes. Then the interpreter said to the magistrate:

'Your Honor, this man has not been understood. He meant no offense. He gave his name when you asked it. He is Isaac Wontell of Chrystie street."

The Court checked the laughter that rose. Then he said:

"I ought to fine you heavily for neglecting to tell me your full name, but I shall let you off with a fine of $1."

FLIERS' CIRCUS TO START UP.

Seven Aviators in a Traveling Combination.

New York Sun.

Fliers' corner at the Hotel Astor will be deserted this morning when Alfred Moisant, a brother of Aviator John B. Moisant, leaves for Richmond, Va., with his circus of man-birds, where the opening exhibition of four days will begin on Wednesday. This traveling troupe of fliers has been incorporated as the International Aviators, and starts out with eight machines and seven performers. The aviators are John B. Moisant, Chas. K. Hamilton, Roland. G. Garros, Rene Simon, Rene Barrier, Edmond Audemars and John J. Frisbie. It is hoped that President Taft, who will be in Richmond during the meet, will be a spectator on the opening day.

Mr. Moisant said that while the tournament will be run more or less on the plan of a circus, its purpose is educational. He said school children and inmates of charitable organizations in all cities will be admitted to the exhibition free of charge. He said this is made possible by the combination of aviators under a single management and in a short time it is expected that the aggregation of fliers will use a special train to carry the machines and corps of mechanicians.

Mr. Moisant said that he had signed contracts with aviators involving more than $500,000 and had spent something like $180,000 outside this sum. The new body is incorporated with a paid up capital of $250,000, and Mr. Mooisant said that he had turned over all of his personal contracts to the organization without receiving anything in return for his outlay. He says during the year an effort will be made to give the inhabitants of every place of good size in the United States an opportunity to see a flying exhibition. This new combination of fliers will not demand large guarantees for holding meets, but will go to any city where the inducements are sufficient to cover expenses.

Seven aviators will start with the company. They are Moistnat, Hamilton, Simon, Audemars, Garros, Barrier and Frisbie. The Frenchmen left the city last night. Frisbie is from Ireland, Moisant from Chicago, Hamilton is an astute business man who would have succeeded in any line in the Wooden Nutmeg State, and the rest are straight from Paris.

They will all live in a yellow and green railroad train of their own.

Hexamethylenetetramine.

Is the name of a German chemical, one of the many valuable ingredients of Foley's Kidney Remedy. Hexamethylenetetramine is recognized by medical text books and authorities as a uric acid solvent and anti-septic for the urine. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy promptly at the first sign of kidney trouble and avoid a serious malady. Howard Gardner.

The man is known by the company he keeps—away from.

A Household Medicine.

To be really valuable must show equally good results from each member of the family using it. Foley's Honey and Tar does just this. Whether for children or grown persons Foley's Honey and Tar is best and safest for all coughs and colds. Howard Gardner.

A WOMAN MAYOR IN WALES TOWN

Miss Gwenllian Morgan has just been elected Mayor of Brecon, in South Wales. She is much beloved, and when she was invested with the Mayor's gold chain and scarlet robe the enthusiasm is said to have been immense.

Miss Morgan comes of a family distinguished for scholarship and public service. She is called the best antiquary in South Wales. She has also shown a strong interest in more modern questions, especially the housing problem. In politics she is a Liberal. She is an author of reputation, and has lately been collaborating with the American poet Louise Imogen Guiney in writing a life of Henry Vaughan.

Miss Morgan is the second British woman to be chosen Mayor. Mrs. Elizabeth Garrett Anderson had already served two terms as Mayor of Aldeburgh and has just declined to stand for re-election.

Both Speedy and Effective.

This indicates the action of Foley Kidney Pills as S. Parsons, Battle Creek Mich., illustrates: "I have been afflicted with a severe case of kidney and bladder trouble for which I found no relief until I used Foley Kidney Pills These cured me entirely of all my ailments. I was troubled with backaches and severe shooting pains with annoying urinary irregularities. The steady use of Foley Kidney Pills rid me entirely of all my former troubles. They have my highest recommendation." Howard Gardner.

Marvellous.

Not Sorry for Blunder.

"If my friend hadn't blundered in thinking I was a doomed victim of consumption, I might not be alive now," writes D. T. Sanders, of Harrodsburg, Ky., "but for years they saw every attempt to cure a lung-racking cough fail. At last I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. The effect was wonderful. It soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have had for years. CORONER'S INQUEST.

Examination of Witnesses in the Case of Raymond Moir—Jury Finds No Conclusive Evidence.

There is yet no evidence sufficiently conclusive to convict any one of foul play in the case of Raymond Moir, the negro who was found dead in his carriage in the vicinity of Warnersville, Sunday morning.

On Monday Coroner Wood selected a jury composed of R. M. Rees, E. A. Brown, D. R. Aiken, T. E. Lynch, W. E. Schenck and S. P. Keeling. Yesterday morning they visited McNeil's undertaking establishment and after having made an examination of the body went to the spot where Moir was found dead and made a careful and most searching investigation of the surroundings and circumstances incident upon the strange affair. At 2:30 o'clock the jury met at the court house in secret session, at which time a thorough examination of witnesses was made.

While there was much evidence produced to cause suspicion, there was none of sufficient weight to justify a verdict. The jury's report was simply that the deceased came to his death by some cause not known to them. Most of the day was spent in the examination, but the jury finally reached the conclusion that not other report could be submitted.

Coroner Wood says that the circumstances hardly justify a post mortem examination. Both the county attorney and the county physician were present throughout the investigation.

STONE PROPOSES FUSION

Calls on Democratic and Insurgent Senators To Combine.

Washington, Nov. 22.—The latest political development in Washington is a letter written by Senator William J. Stone, of Missouri, in which he proposes a combination between the Democratic Senators and the Republican Insurgents, by which they will be able to reorganize the Senate, obtain control of the committees and apportion the chairmanships among themselves.

Such a combination, Mr. Stone points out in his letter, will once and for all smash the present standpat control of the Senate and make possible the enactment of progressive legislation demanded by the people, which, under the present regime and committee chairmanships, is impossible.

Senator Stone's letter, it is understood, was sent to all of his Democratic colleagues in the Senate and to a number of the leading Republican Insurgent Senators, such as Cummins, of Iowa; La Follette, of Wisconsin; Bristow, of Kansas, and others. It has occasioned considerable comment, and will probably be one of the first questions to be considered when all the Democratic Senators get to Washington.

High School Building Plumbing.

The City Board of Education met yesterday for the purpose of opening bids for the plumbing work on the new High School building to be erected on South Spring street. There were only two bidders. Adams & Hunt and W. P. Donaldson. The bid of the former was accepted, the price being $1,890. As soon as the board determines upon the kind of heating apparatus to be used bids will be called for for the heating of the building. The contract will probably be closed for the erection of the building Friday night, the Board of Aldermen being required to authorize the making of the contract. As soon as this is done work will be commenced at once.

Advance in Freight Rates Suspended.

Washington, Nov. 22.—The advances in freight rates on bituminous coal, which the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad proposed to put into effect on December 16th have been suspended by the Interstate Commerce Commission until March 15th so far as they cancel rates now effective on bituminous coal for reshipment via Lake.

Then select every day one or two presents. A small deposit will secure them for you. They will be laid aside until the day before Christmas.

A look at the show windows and the store proper will aid in making selections. Come whenever you like, and as often as you please. We will be very glad to show you around. You will never be urged to buy.

You will probably give at least one watch. By buying it here you will save enough so that for the difference you can secure a very good chain to attach to it.

There will surely be some one to whom you will want to give a ring, to others bracelets, lockets and scarf pins, brooches and studs. For still others you will want little trinkets in silver novelties.

If You Don't Trade With Us We Both Lose Money

to ask a friend to do you a favor when it is impossible to secure the favor in any other way. But why ask a friend to go on your bond as surety when the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company can give better security than an individual at no extra cost for its faithful discharge of its duty as a trustee or executor or administrator. Why should you sign a bond by which your "heirs, executors, administrators and assigns are held and firmly bound" to pay for the default of others; perhaps after your death, every dollar of your estate? Tell your friend not to burden you with such a grave responsibility. Let the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company become responsible.

Talk this over with us—it will assist you.
